better speak to Auntie about the carpet when you are over at the city.

Mary Brier told me last Sabbath that Will passed without any conditions, that they had no idea he would be able to do so, that he entered as student at large, was examined in the College of engineering. When I looked in the register and saw what were the requirements there I was surprised at the pride Mary showed.

I am very sorry about the complications you speak of, but do not see what we can do.

Dear Millie

Charlie has not come home and as I have had no word from him I have no idea when he will come.

I do not think it possible for me to leave home while he is away. I did not receive your letter yesterday morning I suppose it went on and came back in the evening.

I wonder if you think I could do any good by talking to Mr. Sill about your library matters. I don't really see how I could. If I should talk to him, all I could say would be, — Mr. Sill I hope you will do no more about that matter than is entirely agreeable to you, and in your opinion for the good of the University.

On no account would I have you urge it as a favor to Millie. If she can have the appointment of course it will be a great convenience, but if she cannot we shall contrive some other way to keep her there. That is all I could say and I don't see but you can say that as well as I can.

You had best take two or three days in the city before you come home as Cousin Lue is there now and later she will be at Havana

I presume Charlie will be at home before long, tho I do not know what day.

I suppose you are quite competent to decide about your room. If the room with the single beds had any sunshine I think I should take it. As to the carpet Aunt Jane told me she had an old carpet that she was going to send me and you may have that. Then do you think there would be any objection made to your putting the single beds in that room? on the principle you know of. first come, first served. If you decide to do this
